

Youth Life Skills

History:

Youth Life Skills (YLS) was designed to assist in the prevention or discouragement of students leaving high school before they graduate. Youth Life Skills (YLS) is an alternative to mainstream or traditional classroom structure. Youth Life Skills offers a non-traditional approach to education, focusing on the student as an individual and catching those who have fallen through the cracks. At Youth Life Skills we believe leaving school without a diploma negatively impacts the lives of individuals both their professional and personal.

Youth Life Skills (YLS) primary goal is to prepare students for lifetime achievement by creating an innovative and academically excellent school.

Many students and parents choose Youth Life Skills (YLS) because of the small class sizes, an individualized learning process that equates to positive productive and an environment conducive to each student's learning style. Youth Life Skills (YLS) acknowledges the fact that students who attend Youth Life Skills (YLS) enjoy an individualized high school experience in an environment that offers:

- close student-teacher relationship
- student decision-making
- diverse curriculum
- peer guidance & parental involvement
- more flexibility in academic scheduling
- diverse curriculum built around each student's goals, needs and learning style (s)
- an environment where students feel engaged, empowered and challenged
- an environment of mutual respect for every person
- a certified High School Diploma from their home school
- Instructional standards designed by the Indiana Department of Education and implemented by certified teachers

Eligibility Statement

The T.A.B.E. (Test of Adult Basic Education) is required of all students seeking enrollment into Youth Life Skills (YLS). Students are required to score 6.5 or above on the T.A.B.E. Students scoring 6.5 or higher and has acquired the referral document will be considered a tentative contender for Youth Life Skills (YLS)

Referrals to Youth Life Skills (YLS) are often made through a student’s home school administrator or guidance counselor. Academic assessment and documentation must be completed prior to student (s) enrollment in Youth Life Skills (YLS). Whenever feasible, students accepted into Youth Life Skills (YLS) will be encouraged to pursue one of FWCS high school diplomas: General Diploma, C-40, C-40 with Technical or C-40 with honors. The crucial conversations about alternative pathways to obtaining the student’s education rest with the home school and the student’s family. The deciding factor (s) will depend on the student’s age, ECA status, and the number of credits the student has accumulated while enrolled in a comprehensive high school.
